Special School Board Session Tonight On Recreation Plans

The School Committee is scheduled to meet in special session tonight, to consider plans for the development of the High School area for athletics.

School Board Member Robert McIntyre who, with Donald D. Dunn and Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson have been studying the problem since last spring, have felt that some workable plan can be presented to town meeting for part of the area. McIntyre urged the Committee to insert an article in the annual warrant, covering at least the proposed track and utility area.

The latter section would be usable for tennis, basketball, skating, and some other activities. The Committee has previously agreed that such facilities, if prepared for use of the school system, should also be made available in the summer for town-wide use, possibly under the sponsorship and guidance of the Recreation Committee.

Although some members of the School Committee, at a meeting Jan. 10, were sceptical that a workable plan can be prepared between now and town meeting, McIntyre and Supt. Erickson urged a special meeting to consider the subject. They felt that, between the School Board meeting and tonight, there could be some definite cost estimates obtained.

McIntyre told the Committee that drainage engineering on the site is a simple matter, and that problems of this nature can be easily and quickly solved. Placement of the

Can the flood of gravel pits be restrained by rigid restrictions? This is one of the several perplexing questions the Selectmen will discuss with Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien next Monday night.

They went to find out how far the Board can go in refusing permits, as the official agency designated by the by-laws to handle gravel pits.

Selectman James D. Wilson focused attention on the problem last Monday night, urging the Board to make some firm decision on the issuance of permits.

He pointed out that one major highway contractor has plans for at least 16 gravel pits, if all his present and planned requests are approved. Other contractors also

Services To Voters, Candidates League Offers Election-Day

The League of Women Voters has voted to offer two election-day services, and to take its annual candidates' meeting into four sections of town.

The Board of Directors, after reviewing its non-partisan policy, has agreed to:

Check voters at the polls election day, calling all those who have not voted by noon and reminding them that they have only a few hours left in which to do so. The League will also offer transportation for anyone needing a ride to the polling places.

In years past, most candidates have individually posted workers at the polls to check off those who have voted, as the basis for an afternoon telephone campaign. The League will not urge the selection of any one candidate, but has agreed to perform the checking and telephoning services for the candidates.

The Board of Directors also has planned to hold its meetings in four sections of the community prior to the election, so that voters all over town will have an opportunity to hear the candidates and ask them questions.

Formerly, the meeting was confined to one night, in the Central School.

Tax Facts - Your Home As An Income Producer

(This is one in a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

If you rent all or part of your home, the income you receive is taxable. However, the government is only interested in taxing the amount you gain over and above your expenses. You can save valuable tax dollars by being aware of the expenses you can deduct from the rent you receive.

Assume that you own an eight room house. Since you only need six rooms, you decide to rent the other two rooms as a furnished apartment. You will now have two kinds of deductible expenses, those expenses that apply to the house as a unit, and those expenses that apply particularly to the apartment.

As a home owner, you can deduct any property taxes you may have to pay. You can also deduct the interest on a mortgage. This is true whether you rent part of the house, or not, but there are some additional deductions you can take from the rent you receive for the two rooms. You can deduct such items as insurance, repairs, collection fees, depreciation, and brokerage commissions. But remember, these deductible expenses must apply directly to the two rooms you are renting. In other words, if you make repairs to the whole house you can only deduct from rent income the cost of repairs applicable to the two rooms being rented.

If you supply any utilities such as gas or electricity to your tenant without making a separate charge, you can deduct a portion of the amount you pay for these utilities from the rent you receive.

Income from renting all or part of your home should be reported in Schedule G of Form 1040. However, if you perform any substantial services for your tenant, then the rent becomes business income and should be reported on Schedule C. For example, you may be supplying hotel-type services such as breakfast, laundry or cleaning. If such is the case, then you are actually receiving payment for the use of both your property and your services. In effect, you are in the hotel business and must report your income as business income.

Home As A Business Office
If you can show that it is necessary for you to work at home as a part of earning your income from a business, profession, or job, you may be able to deduct a portion of your household expenses as business expenses.

It may be that you use a room as an office. You have equipped it with a desk, a couple of chairs or other materials for performing your work. You can deduct a portion of the following expenses as legitimate business expenditures; depreciation of your home, heat, light, insurance and so on. You can also deduct any portion of your telephone bill applicable to your business affairs.

If you happen to be renting your home from someone else, you cannot deduct an amount for the depreciation of a portion of the house, but you can claim a share of the rent you pay as a deduction.

Some of the expenses for your home office are fully deductible. These are expenses that relate exclusively to your business, such as supplies, postage, depreciation of your office furniture, and so on.

Whether you are renting your home or using part of it as an office, remember to keep records of as many of your expenses as possible. Although you are entitled to deduct the expenses discussed in this article, the Internal Revenue Service may ask for an explanation of some of the items you deduct. It pays to have whatever information you can gather to support the expenses you claim.

You can get additional information on deductible expenses from the free instruction booklet issued each year by the Internal Revenue Service. A copy will be sent to you together with your income tax forms.

DAR Listened To Talk About Fans

An interesting talk on "Fans" was given by Mrs. Jesse Bottomley at the January meeting of the D.A.R. Abbot Chapter, N.S., held at the home of Mrs. Edwin Lewis on Pasho st., Jan. 10. She told of the antiquity of fans, the first-known being those in Egypt over 7,000 years ago, being used in regal ceremonies for the kings. The fan spread to China, the Chinese inventing the palm leaf fan, then to Japan and France and Italy. They were mostly used in the old days to keep the dignitaries cool, and also to get rid of insect life which was plentiful in those days when there were no screens, and little sanitation.

In France and Italy they were used for other purposes, to peer through, and hide flirting glances and smiling looks. Later on there was a regular code of fan flirtation, to bring on a shy lover, or scorn a repulsed one.

Mrs. Bottomley had a fine display of fans to show, made of feathers, tortoise shell, sandalwood, ivory, painted silks, parchment and vellum, which were very lovely and in some cases most unique.

The meeting opened at 2:30, preceded by dessert served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harry Donovan, Mrs. George Glennie and Mrs. John Murray. Mrs. Joseph Amhurst served at the coffee table.

Mrs. Edwin Otto, regent, brought greetings of the season to those present, there being 22 members and guests in attendance. Devotions were given by the chaplain, Mrs. Ernest Edmonds, and the Pledge to the Flag and American's Creed followed, with one verse of America being sung.

The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Donovan, and the treasurer's by Mrs. William Trow. Mrs. Frank Hayes, ex-regent, read excerpts from the pamphlet "Changing Times", and also from President-Elect Kennedy's speech at a meeting in Boston.

Reports from the various committees were given, and Mrs. Roland Weeks reminded the members that next month is American History month. It was noted that subscriptions to the D.A.R. Magazine are ahead of the required number needed to earn honors for the society. Mrs. Murray spoke about Hillside School, to which the chapter sent gifts at Christmas, and was most enthusiastic about what is being done there for boys from broken homes. It was voted to send a sum of money toward a new building for the school.

Recommendations of the Executive Board were then brought before the Chapter, and they were unanimously voted.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held Feb. 14 at the home of Mrs. Roland Weeks on Maple Ave.

CUB PACK 76 COMMITTEE MEETING
A meeting of Cub Pack 76 committee members and den mothers was held last Wednesday evening at the home of Cubmaster and Mrs. Ellsworth Spencer on Tewksbury st., Ballardvale.

Plans were made for the next pack meeting, Tuesday night, Jan. 24, at 7 o'clock. It is planned to have a magician at the meeting. Tentative plans were made for a covered-dish supper in February for Cubs and parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dalley of Main st. are spending several weeks in Rutland, Vt.

News that Christ Church is preparing a new seal might not ordinarily deserve too much attention, except from those immediately concerned.

But when the news reaches the home-town newspaper via London, England it's noteworthy.

Alex Ritchie Jr. recently gave the Townsman a clipping taken from the London "Evening News", stating that Andover, England, had been requested by Christ Church to give permission to use part of its coat of arms in the seal.

Mr. Ritchie received the clipping from Jack Smith, a ham radio operator in London, with whom Ritchie talks on Sunday mornings at 9:30.

The clipping stated that the Borough Council had no objection to the use of a portion of the coat of arms. Ernest Young, chairman of the local Committee preparing the seal, said it has been designed and but is still in the hands of the artist.

Suzanne Noury Is Council Member

Suzanne M. Noury, 9 Chestnut st., has been elected to the executive council of the women's dormitory at Northeastern University.

Miss Noury, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Noury, will serve as the secretary of the council for the next academic year. The executive council is the over-all student governing body of the more than 200 women in the University's dormitory. It has primary jurisdiction in non-academic affairs concerning residents of the dormitory.

A graduate of Andover High School, Miss Noury is a freshman majoring in elementary education in Northeastern's College of Education, one of the University's seven schools and colleges.

While a student at Andover High School, she was a member of the color guard of the band, and was chairman of Andover High School's Service Committee.

Association Planning Social Evening

The Shawsheen Village Improvement Association will hold its first annual social at the Knights of Columbus Hall Jan. 21, from 8 p.m. to midnight.

The party will be limited to members of the Association and will be informal. Reservations are available from John J. Broderick of Enmore st., president.

ATTEND LUNCHEON

Mrs. Robert Mears and Mrs. Franklyn Haggerty attended the annual luncheon of the Merrimack Valley District of the Camp Fire Girls Tuesday in the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, North Andover.

Comes The Pay-off

Now that 1960 food purchases are completed, CO-OP shoppers are adding up their sales slips for the year — about a million dollars' worth. To help with the addition, we have machines in our office over the store. All slips are due by Jan. 31.

To CO-OP members, adding up 1960 sales slips is a pleasant task because sales slips are the basis for figuring the CO-OP 1960 CASH refund.

People who are not familiar with the CO-OP way of doing business can also be adding slips next January in anticipation of their CASH refund by starting to Shop CO-OP right now. Green stamps or green backs — which do you prefer? The CO-OP gives you CASH.

the United Church of Christ may become America's leading denomination.

As the matter has been under discussion in West Parish Church for over 12 years, and had the support of the pastor, the Rev. Howard A. Andrews, the Church Cabinet, and the Church Council, there was little discussion among the 112 parishioners present Thursday night, and when the vote came, there was only one dissenting vote.

The matter will be referred to tonight's annual meeting of the parish, which controls the church's financial and property affairs. Since membership in the Church and the parish is almost identical, an endorsing action is expected.

The annual reports indicated that 1960 was the most active and successful year in the history of the Church, established in 1826. Fifty-five new members joined the church, so that despite a reducing revision of the rolls, the formal membership stands at 551 persons, of whom 537 are resident active members.

Among the members, one death 18 baptisms, and four marriages were recorded during the year.

Average attendance at the Sunday morning services increased to a record 204 for the year, exclusive of the July-August summer services. For the first time in the Church's history, double services were held — on Passion Sunday, Palm Sunday, and Easter. A record Christmas Eve attendance of 435 was noted. Aggregate attendance at the regular and special church services, counting children only when they stayed through the entire service, was 10,050.

Active enrollment in the Church School is 417, including a staff of 46 persons. Two hundred and thirty two additional enrollments were reported in the young people's organizations, including the Junior and Senior High School Pilgrim Fellowship groups, Junior Choir, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and two Brownie troops.

Three hundred and thirty adult enrollments were reported in the Women's Union, the Women's Evening Circle, the Brotherhood, the Couples Club, the Senior Choir, and two Bible Study Groups.

Benevolent gifts of over $3,000 by the Church and its organizations established a new record, and Church pledges for 1961 benevolences stand at over $6,000, an increase of 90 percent with a 63 percent rise in number of pledgers over last year. Separate pledges to current expenses stand at over $28,400, 13 percent higher than a year ago and an increase of 6 percent in number of donors.

By-law changes, adopted at the meeting, eliminate the Christian Outreach Committee and substitute a Missions Council and a Christian Social Action Committee, and establish an Audio-Visual Aids Committee and a standing By-laws Committee. In prolonged debate, a proposal for the abandonment of present control of the Communion Fund by the deacons and deaconesses for local charities was defeated. Another by-law change shifts the annual church meeting from the second to the third Thursday of January.

Four staff changes were noted in the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Andrews as pastor, Mrs. Hans Barber as organist, and Robert G. Goodwin as choirmaster. Miss Madge Wilson, director of Christian education, has given a year-end resignation, and a successor is being sought. A candidate, the Rev. C. Richard Roelofs of Harvard University, was a guest in the church Jan. 8, and spoke last Sunday to the Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship.

Harold E. Lermond moderated the two-hour meeting, following a roast beef dinner catered by Al Jermyn of Hamilton. The invocation, necrology reading, and benediction were offered by the pastor. The meeting was closed by Warren A. Lewis, newly-elected moderator.

At this evening's annual meeting of the parish, additional elections will be held and a budget will be adopted.

Selectman William Stewart has asked interested town officials to survey the requirements of home owners in Shawsheen, who are losing their property for Route 495 construction, in an effort to help them move their homes.

The first step in the survey, he indicated, would be to find out what land is available; and secondly, to determine the feelings of the residents about moving their houses into an area that might be prepared for them.

Mr. Stewart, concerned that so many residents are being uprooted, wondered if the town might not be able to assist them in finding a location, and in making arrangements for moving the houses. He suggested that the area around Filter Bed rd. might be suitable for such a development, but wanted the assessors to check on it and other potential sites.

His plan would call for town assistance in getting the area ready for the homes, and helping to make arrangements for the moving. This might be done on the base roadway of Route 495 itself, he suggested, to save travelling on public streets. He also thought that more advantageous prices for moving could be obtained if a number of homes were to be taken from their present location.

All Board members agreed that the town should do everything it can to help the people whose homes are being taken, providing an area is available and the residents wish to take part in such a project.

Selectman Philip K. Allen said he would investigate any possibility of the state being interested in such a project, because there might also be some saving to the state in land-taking costs.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Candidates, Where Are You?

Candidates for public office have only until the 30th of the month to file their papers — but as matters stand now, there won't be much for the registrars to do.

Interest in seeking elective office seems to be on the wane, judging by the lack of enthusiasm demonstrated by local residents. There is only one candidate for Selectman, in addition to the incumbents; no one has yet indicated even a shallow interest in challenging the two School Committee members who seek re-election; and other office-holders — the moderator and housing authority member — go unchallenged.

Sincere competition, giving the voters an opportunity to make a selection, is needed.

It's nothing against any officer of the town, but it seems to us that every public office should be sought by at least one competitor, so that voters can make a sensible decision.

If this happens, there should be another candidate for Selectman, two for School Committee, and one each for moderator and housing authority. It's about time that alert voters, many of whom have indicated a real interest in town government, shrugged off their personal apathy and placed their names before the public.

Frightening Prospect

Possibly the most frightening prospect the town has ever faced looms before us now — gravel pits all over the town.

One contractor has 16 requests for permits to remove gravel and fill — just for one section of Route 495. Others will come for use in the highway construction program, in addition to those for other routine purposes.

Selectman James D. Wilson has suggested to the Selectmen that they make up their minds now, then stick to a policy designed to protect the town against a monstrous invasion by the excavators. While he doesn't go so far as to suggest banning all gravel operations, Wilson has pointed out that the Selectmen must adopt a policy, under the extreme conditions facing the community.

The Board, after investigating the legal problems involved, is planning to do just that — and they can't move too swiftly.

We have no quarrel with the normal pit operations. People always need gravel, and there should be enough available for them. But this wholesale invasion of the town is quite another matter — just look at some of the communities where pits have been allowed in quantity, and have been left to blight the town.

Wilson is quite correct in his desire to see a firm policy established, and adhered to, and we can only hope that it will be a stern, restrictive policy for the protection of the entire community.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago—January, 1911

Ballard Holt, John V. Holt and Harry W. Purington of this town attended the reunion of the 44th Regiment, held at Young's Hotel in Boston last week.

A new book recently added to the Library is one by Hoffman entitled "Mark Enderly, Engineer", and is illustrated by William Harnden Foster of this town.

The teachers of the Richardson School are spending today visiting at the training school in Lowell.

Mrs. Frank McDonald of Maple ave. was taken to Salem Hospital recently for emergency surgery.

A crowd of intoxicated fellows broke one of the windows in Michael Francis' store on Main st. last Saturday night.

The Civic League is currently studying such diversified subjects as amusement, noise and smoke laws; drainage and contagious diseases; auto laws; and entertainment for inmates at the Alms House.

25 Years Ago—January, 1936

A Ballardvale man was arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of attempting to set fire to a building. This is the culmination of weeks of investigation of fires in the Vale which police believe were set. Probable cause was found in District Court, and he was held for the Grand Jury in bail of $1,000.

There are plenty of rumors, but so far there are no candidates to oppose the re-election bid of Dr. J.J. Daly, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and Assessors. All officeholders are intending to seek re-election and have taken out papers.

A first aid station will be set up in the fire station under the sponsorship of the Red Cross Chapter. This is the local portion of a national Red Cross plan to establish first aid centers for fast treatment of accident and other emergency cases.

Frederick Hulme was elected president of the new Little Theatre group last Monday night. The group will be called "The Adventurers: A Community Theatre". Mrs. James H. Eaton is vice president and Charles Armitage is secretary.

Earle E. Ferguson has been installed as master of Andover Grange.

10 Years Ago—January, 1951

Lowell and Haverhill sts. have been approved for Chapter 90 work by the state and county. The latter two will pay a total of $10,500 for Haverhill st. work construction, with the town paying $3,500. The state's share of the Lowell st. project will be $5,750,

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"This is an answer to the editorial in December in which you said the Andover Taxpayers Association is 'selfish' because it seeks to keep taxes down."

"Since I can not speak officially for the group even though I am its president, I submit the following as my personal view of the principles for which I hope the Association stands. And to save valuable space, I shall refer to the Association as the ATA."

"Possibly the most valuable single contribution of the ATA is an intangible — a climate of civic vigilance for the town's interests which serves as a deterrent to the more extreme proposals which might be made. This civic climate is the result of our activities in the 10 following areas:

"1. We believe that government should be limited to 'essential' public services. Although the adoption of a local tax follows a democratic process, there is nothing democratic about apportioning a tax or voluntary about paying it. Because a tax is collected both from those favoring and those opposing a project, a tax may be a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul — legally, of course."

"I hope this Association believes every person is entitled to retain his earnings unless a clear public need is established. There seems to be in our midst more and more people eager to make their pet projects a 'free' public service, all in the name of social justice, of course. This overlooks the fact that, as welfareism increases, it stifles the private initiative of both those who receive and those who pay for the service. It thus helps destroy the very incentive that creates the wealth on which welfareism feeds."

"2. I think that most members of the ATA believe in home rule whenever practicable. But some of our townspeople seem to feel not only that local public services are free, but that state and federal services are more free than local. Not only do the higher levels of government collect their funds from the same people (in the long run) but, being distant from the while the town and county will pay $2,875 each.

Will G. Brown has been elected president of the Square and Compass Club Inc. Other officers are George Thompson, first vice president; Otto Escholz, second vice president; James Mosher, secretary and Harry Sellers, treasurer.

More than 300 members of the Andover Catholic Club and their guests from all of the Greater Lawrence area, attended the annual dinner dance and induction ceremonies at the Andover Country Club last Saturday night, when William F. Lucey, 9 Abbot st., recently elevated to the rank of a Knight of Malta by Pope Plus XII, was installed as president of the club.

Thirty additional auxiliary policemen took their oath of office Monday night at town hall. Training will get underway immediately, now that the full roster of 100 men is completed.

scene, they are necessarily less efficient and less economical. Were this not so, we should surrender many more of our local power to super-government (which is republican without being democratic).

"Shifting taxes from local to state budgets makes our local officials look good, but it only increases our total tax burden."

"3. The ATA tries to moderate the more utopian demands of our public departments and employees, teachers included."

"4. Related to the demands of our employees for ever-greater rewards, is the matter of superior service. Especially in our schools, where individual excellence can greatly exceed the minimum requirements of the job, should excellence be recognized and rewarded. I hope the ATA will continue to urge a sound merit plan."

"5. After pet projects get on the 'free' list, it seldom happens that they are re-evaluated. For example, it irks some of our citizens to be forced to help pay for 'free' driver training, which in effect puts money into the pockets of those receiving the instruction. They question the payment, not the value of the training."

"6. The ATA wants economy in town government. Perhaps our most striking success here is the spectacular saving made in the construction of the new South School. Not all of us are so gullible as to think that the effectiveness of education depends on the lushness of the structure."

"7. Believing in efficient local government, the ATA urged the town manager plan, a separate school building committee and other similar improvements."

"8. Unlike our Finance Committee, whose scope is limited to money items in the current budget, the ATA is free to work in any area where it thinks it can protect or promote the town's interests. Looking ahead, we have successfully urged the adoption of long-range water and sewer programs and a long-range capital expenditure program."

"9. Functioning outside tax matters, this Association has introduced the secret ballot, provided for revision of our by-laws, sponsored the personnel board and other similar improvements."

"10. In addition to our work at the local level, every member of the ATA supports prudent government at the state level by virtue of this state membership."

"Finally, the ATA performs a useful public service by presenting the other side of a proposal. Voters need all points of view in order to arrive at a decision fair to all our taxpayers."

"If we are selfish because we sometimes try to keep taxes from going much higher, could it be that what this town now needs is an unselfish group whose purpose it is to push taxes up as fast as possible?"

"Thanks for listening to the other side."

Dino G. Valz

To the Editor of the Townsman:
"The Townsman expressed an opinion supporting the office of town manager as it seeks to enlarge its political power in our town. Following is a contrary opinion."

"It's elementary that the paramount policy of the town of Andover is to act within the limitations of, as well as to nurture by example,

Ballardvale Meeting

Children who are members of the Ballardvale Littlest Listener group will have their usual story hour Thursday morning, Jan. 19, at 10 o'clock in the branch library room. This group is always open to new members who are in the pre-school age group, three and over.

Robins Group

The Andover group of Littlest Listeners who are Robins will have their story hour Wednesday morning, Jan. 25, at 10 o'clock in the Memorial Hall Library. While the children are having their program, mothers will sit in a near-by room to see a twenty minute film "Frustrating Fours and Fascinating Fives", after which there will be time for a short informal discussion based on the film. This study of the changes which take place in the normal child passing through this age will explain many of the personality changes which so often baffle parents. Any mother in the community who wishes is urged to be present.

Littlest Listener groups begin promptly at 10 o'clock and run for three quarters of an hour.

New Book On Monet

The Memorial Hall Library has just added an unusually beautiful art book — "Claude Monet." William C. Seitz, the author, has written what may well be the first truly comprehensive work on the painter whose work gave the name "Impressionism" to the new style of painting. He was the leader in late nineteenth century art of those who "took painting out of the studio and into the open air" as one writer has put it.

Monet died in 1926, having been accepted after a period of harsh criticism for his daring to move into the field of experiment. In this book, the author has selected colorplates that show the development of Monet's talent from the earliest work in 1850 to the mural on which he was working at the end of his life. To add to the interest of his book, Mr. Seitz visited the places which Monet painted and has placed photographs of the sites beside the paintings reproduced in the book. He has added a section of drawings which are unknown to many who have felt that they knew this artist's work extremely well.

Mr. Seitz is Associate Curator of the Department of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions of the Museum of Modern Art, in New York. He is recognized as one of the world's leading authorities on the work of Claude Monet.

Democracy; and that in spite of the fact that Democracy is anything but an efficient form of government."

"A principal reason for various forms of government, national, state and local, being of the Democratic kind is that they have the exceptional characteristic of being able to give most of the benefits of 'efficient' forms of government, while protecting us from the inherent weakness of centralized authority. That weakness is the efficiency with which such authority can cover its mistakes, thus creating the illusion that it is better than Democracy. Consequently, under Andover's present form of government, it's more committees, not less, that should be interposed between the offices of town manager and its acts."

"Moreover, it now appears to be the duty of the Selectmen to impress upon their office of town manager that the requirements of Democracy come before any opinions that office may have as to how to become more 'efficient' at the expense of the paramount requirement that more and more citizen-participation in their government is our objective."

John Jay To Narrate Film

John Jay, "America's Ambassador of Skiing," arrives into town to personally present, in a lively and amusing style, the new color film "Holiday" at George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy. Packed with action from finish, filmed in beautiful chrome by 24 official photographers, Jay's latest picture bids fair to outdo his 20 films, which stretch all the way back to 1939. The co-pageantry of the 1960 Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif. is presented in all its glory, other alert cameras capturing the competitors and spectators alike. This is not just a film of the competitors, although it thrust them to the core with slow motion technique and close-ups of world famous athletes in competition, fair play sportsmanship in the rare tradition, set against a background of some of the most beautiful scenery ever filmed. So music and Jay's informative witty personal narration greatly to the already picture.

A limited number of seats available for the public. Tickets must be purchased before the movie and may be reserved by telephoning Phillips Academy between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. The movie will be shown at 8:15 and doors will open at 8:30.

Taxpayers Plan Annual Session

The public has been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Andover Taxpayers Association, Jan. 26, at 8 p.m., in the Elementary School Auditorium.

The effects which new highways can have on a community, for or worse, will be discussed by Prof. John Howard of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Some of the areas he will discuss include "Will new highways encourage new industry, stimulate residential development, commercial facilities or increase taxes?"

A specialist in city planning, Prof. Howard spent many years as director of the Cleveland Planning Commission and active in the Cleveland Regional Planning Association after receiving his master's degree from the University of Chicago. He is now active in the area as a teacher and consultant.

His talk will be timely, covering the completion of Route 495 and the construction of Route 495 now underway. Following the talk, there will be a brief business meeting for members of the Association.

Latin America To Be Discussed

"Latin America" will be the subject of the talk by Guillermo Edelberg of Buenos Aires, League of Women Voters luncheon Tuesday, Jan. 24, at the Yankee Restaurant.

Mr. Edelberg is a graduate of an Argentinian University, now studying at Harvard University for his doctorate in International Economic Relations. Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Douglas Dunbar.

The Memorial Hall Library has added an unusually beautiful book - "Claude Monet." William C. Seitz, the author, has written what may well be the first comprehensive work on the artist whose work gave the name "impressionism" to the new style of painting. He was the leader in the nineteenth century art of those who "took painting out of the studio into the open air" as one writer put it.

Monet died in 1926, having been stricken after a period of hardship for his daring to move into the field of experiment. In this book the author has selected plates that show the development of Monet's talent from his first work in 1850 to the mural which he was working at the end of his life. To add to the interest of the book, Mr. Seitz visited the sites which Monet painted and has included photographs of the sites and the paintings reproduced in the book. He has added a section of paintings which are unknown to most who have felt that they knew the artist's work extremely well. Mr. Seitz is Associate Curator of the Department of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions of the Museum of Modern Art, in New York. He is recognized as one of the world's leading authorities on the work of Claude Monet.

Democracy; and that in spite of the fact that Democracy is anything but an efficient form of government. The principal reason for our various forms of government, national, state and local, being of the democratic kind is that they have an exceptional characteristic of being able to give most of the benefits of "efficient" forms of government, while protecting against the inherent weakness of centralized authority. That weakness is efficiency with which such authority can cover its mistakes, creating the illusion that it is more than Democracy. Consequently, under Andover's present form of government, it's more a matter of "not less, that should be interposed between the office of manager and its acts. Moreover, it now appears to be the duty of the Selectmen to press upon their office of town manager that the requirements of democracy come before any other consideration that office may have as to becoming more "efficient" at the expense of the paramount requirement that more and more participation in their government is our objective." John Jay To Narrate Film

John Jay, "America's Ambassador of Skiing" arrives in town Jan. 28 to personally present, in his own lively and amusing style, his exciting new color film "Olympic Holiday" at George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy.

Packed with action from start to finish, filmed in beautiful Ektachrome by 24 official photographers, Jay's latest production bids fair to outdo his 20 earlier films, which stretch all the way back to 1939. The colorful pageantry of the 1960 Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, California, is presented in all its glory, while other alert cameras capture the tension, drama, and gay comedy of the competitors and spectators alike. This is not just a film for ski enthusiasts, although it will thrill them to the core with its slow motion technique shots and close-ups of world famous champions. It is a moving story of athletic competition, fair play, and sportsmanship in the rare Olympic tradition, set against a backdrop of some of the most beautiful winter scenery ever filmed. Stirring music and Jay's informative and witty personal narration add greatly to the already great picture.

A limited number of seats are available for the public. Tickets must be purchased before the 28th and may be reserved by telephoning Phillips Academy between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. The movie starts at 8:15 and doors will open at 7:30.

Taxpayers Plan Annual Session

The public has been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Andover Taxpayers Association Jan. 26, at 8 p.m., in the Central Elementary School Auditorium.

The effects which new highways can have on a community, for better or worse, will be discussed by Prof. John Howard of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Some of the areas he will discuss include "Will new highways encourage new industry, stimulate residential development, expand commercial facilities or increase taxes?"

A specialist in city planning, Prof. Howard spent many years as director of the Cleveland City Planning Commission and was active in the Cleveland Regional Planning Association after receiving his master's degree from MIT. He is now active in the Boston area as a teacher and consultant. His talk will be timely, considering the completion of Route 93 in Andover and the construction of Route 495 now underway.

Following the talk, there will be a brief business meeting for members of the Association.

Latin America To Be Discussed

"Latin America" will be the subject of the talk by Guillermo Edelberg of Buenos Aires at the League of Women Voters winter luncheon Tuesday, Jan. 24, at 12:15 p.m. at the Yankee Doodle Restaurant.

Mr. Edelberg is a graduate of an Argentine University and is now studying at Harvard Business School for his doctorate in International Economic Relations. Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Douglas Dunbar Jr.

ANDOVER, MASS.

Dear friends,

If we chose, we could decide today not to add anything to our Funeral Service equipment for the next ten years. But at the end of those ten years we know we would be hopelessly behind the times.

The type of service we provide requires new equipment constantly—much more, we are sure, than the public realizes. We regard this, however, as a part of our obligation to this community.

Respectfully,

Edmund Taylor, William Rhoads Elected Christ Church Wardens

Edmund R. Taylor and William W. Rhoads were elected wardens of Christ Church Parish at the 125th Annual Parish meeting Monday evening.

After a covered dish supper served by the Adult Social Group, the meeting was called to order in the Church by the clerk of the Parish, Kenneth S. Minard. The Meeting was opened by a Service of Evening Prayer, conducted by the Rector, The Rev. J. Edison Pike, and John H. Fenton, lay reader.

Lane Funeral Home

68 Park Street, Andover
GR 5-1516

Mr. Pike gave his annual Pastoral report at this time. He stressed the great growth of Christ Church in these recent years when the Parish has doubled its membership and is overflowing the Church at two of the Sunday morning services. The rector emphasized the need for the spiritual growth of the Parish to keep pace with the numerical growth.

Following the Evening Prayer Service, the Parish adjourned to the Parish House for the conduct of the annual and stated business. In addition to electing the two wardens, Malcolm Ruhl was elected treasurer and Gardner Shaw and Miss Rebekah L. Taft were elected assistant treasurers. Kenneth S. Minard was elected clerk of the Parish for a 25th term. Peter McKee, Vincent F. Stulgis and James D. Wilson were elected vestrymen for a term of three years and Everett T. Aubry was elected vestryman to fill the unexpired term of Edmund R. Taylor.

A new proposed set of by-laws was considered by the Parish and a special meeting was scheduled for March for further consideration of this matter. A special report of the Long Range Planning Committee was presented by the chairman of the Committee, Alston H. Chase, which told of preliminary investigations concerning proposed additions to Parish property, to accommodate the continuing growth of the Parish.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gaswell were singled out as the "couple of the year" and were cited for their long and devoted service to Christ Church. Mrs. Caswell was given a bouquet of red roses.

The rector, Wallace E. Brimer and William W. Rhoads were elected trustees of Christ Church Cemetery. Edmund R. Taylor, and Mr. Rhoads will be the delegates to the Diocesan Convention. Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Turner are the delegates to the Archdeaconry, and the delegates to the Andover Council of Churches are Mrs. T. R. D. Collins and Charles B. Cottrell.

The Treasurer's report presented by Mr. Charles Gaunt and the report of the Finance Committee, presented by Mr. Cottrell, were accepted. The following annual reports were submitted to the Parish: the Property Committee by C. Lincoln Giles, Christian Education Committee by James A. Watters, Christ Church School Treasurer's report by Harry Sellers, Promotion Committee by Phillips B. Marsden, Christ Church Cemetery by William W. Rhoads, Andover Thrift Shop by Mrs. Frederick Butler, Altar Guild by Miss Rebekah L. Taft, St. Matthew's Guild by Walter C. Caswell, Friendly Guild by Mrs. Malcolm Battles, Adult Social Group by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Fiedler and Report of the Church Periodical Club by Mrs. Ralph T. Berry.

The retiring officers of the Parish were thanked for their loyal service. Retiring from office were John H. Fenton and Malcolm Johnston as wardens, Charles Gaunt as treasurer and Ernest Young and Charles Cottrell as vestrymen. At the 11 a.m. service at Christ Church this Sunday, there will be a Service of Installation for the new officers of the Parish and a recognition of those retiring from office.

Will Present Carl de Suze

The International Institute, a United Fund agency, has engaged Carl de Suze, the well-known radio commentator, to present one of his armchair-travelogues Monday, Jan. 30, at 8 p.m. at the Andover Junior High School Auditorium.

Carl de Suze's annual journeys have taken him to every corner of the globe. His newest lecture, "Africa: Giant at the Door" investigates the dark continent and its increasing importance in our lives.

He probes, with his sensitive camera and tape recorder, into the Congo for the festive Independence Week and the fury of its aftermath. He also reaches through the tragic bars of apartheid in the Union of South Africa to meet the helpless beings who stand on both sides of its social chasm. The armchair traveler will experience in one evening the impact, color and excitement of a continent in turmoil.

This is the second in a series of programs designed as a community service by the International Institute to bring attention to crucial issues shaping our future.

Tickets may be purchased either at the door or in advance at Johnny's Market and from the following Committee members: Mrs. Wolf Berthold, James Christopher, Mrs. Peter Dantos, Miriam Demers, Mrs. Robert Richmond, Richard G. Robertson, Mrs. Jaap Vandenbergh, Mrs. Thayer Warshaw and Mrs. Alexander M. Wilson.

Folded Townsman's Over 70 Years Ago

Thomas A. Remington of Boston, a former resident of the town, visited friends and family here recently.

And while in town, he recalled that he and his brother, the late Gus Remington, worked for the Townsman over 70 years ago. Still a subscriber to the paper, Mr. Remington said he and his brother folded the Townsman when it came off the presses.

The paper was then owned by John N. Cole, speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, who, himself, worked in the pressroom on occasion.

The Townsman was then printed in a brick building, now torn down, that was located behind the Merrimack Valley National Bank Building.

Cole On The Job For Another Month

Arthur E. Cole of High St., whose retirement was announced last week in the Townsman, has agreed to remain in the town's welfare office for another month.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff explained that the new director of public assistance, Francis E. Maguire Jr., a welfare department employee in Lowell, had decided to refuse the local position. He had spent a week with Mr. Cole prior to his decision, and was to have taken over the full responsibility immediately.

Mr. Duff said a new civil service list is being requested. He noted that Mr. Maguire had been top man on the previous list, and, as a disabled veteran, it was mandatory to appoint him.

5 Decisions By
Board Of Appeals

The Zoning Board of Appeals has rendered five decisions, favoring four petitions and turning down one.

The lone negative decision was given on the petition of Herbert M. Peck, 78 Maple ave., who wanted to convert a barn on his property to an apartment. He proposed to live in it, and rent the two "flats" in the house. The Board said the living quarters on the lot would be "too crowded" if the request was granted, noting that there is also a garage on the property.

The four favorable decisions were:

Carmelo J. Calcina petitioned for approval to move his house, in the path of Route 495, from 58 Magnolia ave. to two other lots on the street. Area and frontage are less than the zoning law requires. The Board said it seemed sensible to make the move, and there would be nothing injurious to the neighborhood.

Ludger and Cecile Gagne asked to divide a lot with frontage on No. Main st. and So. Union st., using the lot fronting on So. Union st. for a house. The Board noted that a similar request in the neighborhood had been approved recently, and gave permission for this one also.

Ruth E. O'Neill received approval of her plan to sell part of her lot at 8 Tessier dr. to an abutter, whose lot is considerably smaller than required by the by-laws. The transfer would leave both lots undersized, however. The Board felt it made sense to increase the size of the smaller lot, which would then more nearly conform to the zoning requirements.

Joseph P. and Marie R. Paelkas asked permission to add to their dwelling at 217 Salem st., by creating an apartment over the garage. The Board said an original building permit for the garage was in error, due to set-back requirements not being followed. This necessitated the hearing, which resulted in approval.

Plans Ready For Mothers March

Plans for the Mothers March on Jan. 30 are progressing rapidly, according to Chairman Bruce Dodd of Summer st.

His co-chairmen for the event, Mrs. Alfred Fuller, Mrs. Emory Westcott and Mrs. Hans Scharin, have been signing up workers so that the town will be thoroughly canvassed that night.

In the meantime, every family in the town has been sent some literature, and an envelope, in which the chairman hopes a donation will be placed. The envelope can be given to the marching mothers the night of the drive, or, if no one will be at home that evening, it may be mailed to the first station in Andover.

The mothers taking part in the collection will be eligible to receive some prizes donated by a Lynn businessman. One of the mothers in each Essex County community will receive a transistor radio, and various prizes will be drawn on a county basis.

Mardi Gras Queen Candidate In California Aided Here

Williams Appointed To GOP Council

Rep. Arthur Williams of Andover has been appointed by Rep. Frank S. Giles, Republican floor leader in the Massachusetts House, to the Republican advisory council consisting of 16 Republican members of the House. The council constitutes a steering committee for the Republican legislative minority.

Council meetings are held at the call of the floor leader to discuss the party program and to define the Republican stand on specific issues before the Legislature for action. Often the advisory council meets prior to a caucus to prepare information on legislation to be discussed at the caucus.

Rep. Williams is currently serving his third term in the House.

FETED BY FAMILY ON 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Colmer, 17 Harvard rd., were recently feted at a surprise family dinner party, honoring their 25th wedding anniversary.

The couple was married Jan. 1, 1936, at the First Calvary Baptist Church, by the late Rev. George E. Beecher, D.D. Mrs. Colmer is the former Gladys Morehouse.

Their daughter, Judith, was hostess at the party.

With help from members of her family in Andover, Mrs. Pieter de Vries of San Francisco, Cal., is trying to become queen of the Mardi Gras Ball in that community.

The event is an annual fund-raising affair sponsored by the "Little Jim Club" for the benefit of Children's Hospital.

Mrs. de Vries is the former Josephine Bernardin of Andover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Bernardin, 11 Abbot st., and sister of Selectman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. of Reservation rd. Her husband is a member of the pediatric staff at the Hospital in San Francisco.

Candidates for queen of the ball work to raise money for the Club, which is used to purchase pediatric equipment for the Hospital. The queen is elected by the number of paid votes, at 10 cents each, she receives before Jan. 27.

The Bernardin family here has been sending votes in support of Mrs. de Vries. If she wins, she will preside over the ball, held Feb. 7. Mrs. de Vries attended local schools, Abbot Academy and Vassar. After graduating, she was

Agree On Changes At Essex Street

The town and Boston and Maine Railroad have agreed on details of the traffic and parking solution at the Essex st. crossing.

As a result, the Railroad will seek to have the Department of Public Utilities reconvene the postponed hearing on construction and use of automatic gates there.

The Railroad has agreed to provide easements, and prepare parking facilities, next to the present parking lot on Essex st., in exchange for those parking places which will be lost when a new road is constructed. This way will provide access for cars and trucks entering the industrial area south of Essex st.

Under the general agreement, the confusion of tracks at the crossing will be eliminated; Railroad ave. will be straightened and will exit onto Essex st.; and the new road will pass through the present town parking lot.
